NAB LEADER FOR MAUSOLEUM HERE?

J. M. LAWRENCE PASSED WORTHLESS CHECKS, STATE CHARGES.

HELD IN CALDWELL FOR ALLEGED BREAK

Proposed $35,000 Crypt Container at Oak Hill—Council Approved—Subscribed for Stock.

Apparently an echo to the $35,000 mausoleum proposed for Oak Hill cemetery last fall, and for which the city council granted a permission and many Maryville and Nodaway county residents pledged to buy stock, has been heard from Caldwell county. Dr. J. M. Lawrence, interested in promoting mausoleums throughout Missouri, was arrested in that county a few days ago on a charge of obtaining money on false pretenses or passing worthless checks.

He has been placed in custody at Kingston pending trial on the state charge. According to the Gallatin Democrat Mr. Lawrence has been mixed up in other "shady" ventures. The arrest of Lawrence was made by the sheriff after Lawrence had started for a drive from Hamilton.

Proposed Mausoleum Here.

A man giving his name as R. L. Lawrence of Peoria, Ill., was leader in the move here last October and November in selling stock for the proposed mausoleum in Oak Hill cemetery. After several weeks residence in the city and after getting permission from the city to make the improvement, the leaders left Maryville and have never returned, so far as is known.

The mausoleum planned here was to be 40 by 50 feet in dimensions and large enough to contain 250 crypts. It was to have been built at the southwest corner of the cemetery.

Before the city granted the mausoleum permit Councilmen Frank Garrett and Louis Gram went to Omaha at Lawrence's solicitation to view a mausoleum there. Before the city could grant permission for the mausoleum it was necessary to amend an ordinance permitting the purchase of a larger block of lots by one person or firm.

ENTERS BILLBOARD CONTEST.

Albert Kuchs Improves Poster Spaces—Prize Will Double Rates.

A country-wide contest, inaugurated by the Poster Advertising association of Chicago for the improvement of bill posting service in the United States, has been entered by Albert Kuchs of Maryville. Mr. Kuchs has improved each of the nine billboards of the city by installing a frame effect and otherwise repairing them.

Photographs of each were taken and submitted to contest headquarters. Acknowledgement of their receipt was received by Mr. Kuchs today. The contest closed yesterday but awards will not be announced for several weeks.

First prize of $50 is offered, the billboards being rated according to size of city in which they are located. The receipt of a prize also entitles the proprietor to doubling of space rates.

JUNE HAD 10 CLEAR DAYS.

18 Days Were Cloudy, 2 Partially—Rained 39 Inches Last Night.

Of the thirty days in June, only one-third were clear while eighteen were entirely cloudy and two were partially cloudy, according to records maintained by J. R. Brink. The average temperature during June was rather mild, though it did climb to 91 degrees on June 25. The minimum temperature was 41 degrees.

The rainfall was .39 of an inch last night and this morning, Mr. Brink reports. This makes 7.01 inches since June 1.

Miss Annie Boedeker of Ravenwood came to Maryville last night to visit a few days with Miss Irene Dougan.

RUSS RETREAT ON

TEUTONS IN RAPID ADVANCE FROM GALICIA INTO POLAND.

TWO MILLION AT FRONT

Austro-German Army Numbers Many—Cross Tanew Forest and Near Frontier—Allies Puzzled.

London, July 2.—The northward drive of the Austro-German armies from Galicia into Poland is daily becoming more formidable and England is puzzled whether they propose to make their main effort in this direction, instead of maintaining a concentrated offensive to the eastward to force the Russians out of the south-east tip of Galicia.

Whatever the ultimate object is the fighting along the Gnla Lipa river has not abated, and the Berlin official communication not only records progress in this sector, but further north in the arc around Lemberg as well as along what has now become the northern front, between the Vistula and Bug rivers.

The Austro-German forces on this front are estimated at 2,000,000 men, and their progress has been rapid. They have crossed the forest fringing the Tanew river, and are not far from Zamosc fortress, twenty-five miles north of the Galician frontier.

Arras Sector Storm Center.

The Arras sector maintains its reputation as the storm center of the western front, but despite the fact that the losses are piling up daily, neither side has been able to deliver a decisive blow.

A dispatch from Athens says that the allies have taken the Turkish stronghold of Krithia, on the Gallipoli peninsula, but there is no confirmation.

The first stroke against British naval craft in home waters for some time is announced briefly by the admiralty, which says that fifteen men have been lost by the sinking or torpedoing of the destroyer Lightning, an old craft laid down two decades ago.

The Austrian official report announces the total booty taken during June by the allied troops, during the fighting in the northeast comprises 521 officers and 194,000 men, ninety-three guns, 364 machine guns, seventy-eight caissons and 100 military railway carriages.

DEFER PAVING ACT

COUNCIL MAY POSTPONE STREET IMPROVEMENT BILLS.

GUARD AGAINST FLAWS

City Officials Take Time to Correct Resolutions and Grade Ordinance Bills—City Has 233 Dogs.

The consideration of bills for grade ordinances and paving resolutions, which was scheduled to come before the council in regular session tonight, will probably have to be deferred again, according to City Attorney W. H. Crawford. The matter has been hanging fire a couple of days on account of an endeavor this time to let no legal flaws creep into the bills or resolutions.

The consideration of the paving bills and resolutions followed the repeal of former bills and resolutions, because of technical flaws relative to establishing the curb lines and failing to specify definitely enough what change the paving would necessitate.

The new grade ordinances and resolutions have been in course of preparation the last week, or since the repeal of the old ones. Two previous meetings have been called to consider the new bills, but on account of a delay in getting all in "ship shape," it was postponed until tonight.

City Had 233 Dogs.

The paving matter will probably be continued from tonight until some time early next week, possibly Tuesday or Wednesday.

Little other business is scheduled to come before the council tonight, other than the routine allowance of bills and receiving monthly reports.

The report of the city dog enumerator, to be submitted tonight, shows that there were 233 dogs in the city in June, of which the Fourth ward furnished nearly half.

The report shows there were 43 dogs in the First ward, 51 in the Second, 35 in the Third, and 104 in the Fourth ward. This is compared to 179 enumerated in June, 1914.

Coffin was released on $200 bond until his preliminary before Justice W. L. Johnson tomorrow morning. It was to have been held this afternoon, but on account of the condition of the defendant, was deferred.

The suit for divorce against him is docketed for hearing in the September term of circuit court here. The Coffin family, which also comprises several children, live upstairs over the Nunneley grocery store.

NEGROES WILL NOT CELEBRATE.

Annual Emancipation Anniversary Stunt Called Off, Account of Non-Support.

The celebration to have been held here August 4 by the negroes of Maryville in celebration of the emancipation of their race in this country and the West Indies, has been called off for this year on account of lack of funds, according to Oliver Vance, chairman of the canvassing committee. The committee estimated it would take a fund of $611.25 to defray expenses of the celebration this year. They failed to get near that amount after several solicitations throughout the city. A deficit resulted from last year's celebration, it is said.

Plans are being made to hold the celebration in Parnell this year instead.

CLEARMONT, BURLINGTON, WHITE CLOUD CELEBRATE TOMORROW.

TO HAVE RACES, GAMES, DINNERS AND CONCERTS

Varied Amusements and Entertainment Arranged for Visitors—To Picnic Sunday—Monday Day of Rest.

Despite gloomy weather conditions today plans are going ahead for the various Independence day or "Fourth of July" celebrations over Nodaway county tomorrow, Sunday and Monday. While Maryville will observe the holiday peacefully both Sunday and Monday, and not at all tomorrow, several other communities and towns in the county are laying great stress on the occasion.

Burlington Junction and Clearmont plan the most general celebrations tomorrow. The Fourth Regiment band of Maryville will furnish music at Burlington Junction. In addition to that there will be addresses, free entertainments of various kinds, a steam swing, a big basket dinner, a baby show, athletic contests and a base ball game between Burlington Junction and Hopkins, if the weather is favorable then.

The entertainment will begin at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and only end early tomorrow night. A street carnival will be the closing number.

Clearmont Celebrates, Too.

Clearmont also is going ahead with its plans for the "Fourth of July" celebration tomorrow. The band will play, addresses will be made, fireworks will be furnished at night and a base ball game and foot races are scheduled.

A basket dinner also is planned. The base ball game will be between the Clearmont and the Clarinda, Ia., teams.

Maitland also is planning a big celebration, the features being a base ball game, races of various kinds both by persons and horses, a band concert and speaking. Unusually good races are proposed. Many Maryville residents are intending to go to either Burlington Junction or Clearmont tomorrow afternoon.

Rural Communities to Gather.

A rural community celebration also is planned for tomorrow by White Cloud Baptist church, southwest of Maryville, on the church lawn, if the weather is favorable. The Rev. G. S. Cox of this city is scheduled to speak. A base ball game between White Cloud and Arkoe is planned.

Sheridan also is arranging for a gala day tomorrow with the usual band music, speaking and a basket dinner and automobile races.

A number of picnics and outdoor frolics also are planned for Sunday over the county, partially in observance of Independence day. The gospel team of the First Baptist church here will conduct services at New Hope, east of Hopkins, at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The team will be composed of Ray Davis, Clyde Avitt, G. B. Holmes, William Everhart and James Markwell.

Ravenwood Waits Till Monday.

The Palestine church community, southwest of Maryville, also is going ahead with arrangements for an observance of the anniversary of the declaration of independence Sunday. The features will be a basket dinner and music and speaking. The Rev. R. L. Finch and the Rev. G. S. Cox of this city are scheduled to assist in the sacred services.

Ravenwood will defer its observance of the holiday until Monday, when it will give a basket picnic and furnish music and speaking in the park there.

The Fourth Regiment band will go to Lenox, Ia., Monday to furnish concerts in a "Fourth of July" celebration, while Charles McCaffrey of Maryville is slated to make a speech at New Market, Ia.

Largest Circulation in Nodaway County

We are glad anyway that the storm of Wednesday evening did not extend to Bowling Green, Pike county.

The newest drink is called the "Wilson-Bryan split." It consists of a glass of grape juice with a little dash of lemon.

The governor of Kansas delivered a very effective argument for temperance yesterday in very few words. A new law is going into effect in that state providing for a civil service examination for state employees. The governor issued an instruction to the commission that no man who takes a drink can work for the state of Kansas.

The Teutonic victories over Russia do not seem to have begotten any peace sentiment in that country. The Russians have grudgingly set about to reorganize their war ministry, have established a board of munitions, and propose to get things on a more orderly and business-like basis and come again.

President Wilson will make no "swing around the circle" nor indulge in any "whirlwind speech making trips" this season. He will continue to stay on the job and saw wood. As a matter of fact there never has been a president who spent more hours in actual work or who attended more faithfully to his duties. In this day of golfing, pink tea and tango statesmen it is refreshing to find one solid and serious enough in his attention to the people's business to make business and not pleasure his chief concern.

ONE-IDEA CANDIDATES.
Speaking of public men and popular candidates, the Moberly Democrat

makes the following very sensible observations:

"This country has gone wild on making every man a candidate for office who does something sensational or performs a reasonably worthy act. It seems that every time a man performs a duty in some special matter to the approval of the public he must be made a candidate for some office. This country has had enough of sensational, hobby or one-idea candidates. The one-idea candidacy has been worked to the limit and it is about time it was relegated to the rear and men be elevated to these places on account of their broad knowledge, integrity and actual ability to grasp and pass upon all questions that may come within their province."

BURLINGTON JUNCTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Tibbets and little daughter of Maryville visited with Mr. and Mrs. John Tibbets in Burlington Junction Tuesday.

B. F. Gohn and his force of men are building a large hay barn for A. Steller, north of Clearmont.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cornell of Maryville were visiting in Burlington Junction Monday evening.

Ray Cornell of Burlington Junction spent the first of the week with his brother, Joe Cornell, and wife of Maryville.

Better come to Burlington Junction to celebrate the Fourth.

We are getting another heavy rain this evening.

Misses Helen Hollis, May Greenelsh, Mabel Graham and Madge West, who are attending Normal, spent the week end with their parents.

Deafness

Are You Deaf or Hard of Hearing?

Now is the ideal time to treat deafness. Ninety per cent of all deafness is caused by catarrh. Dr. Edwards of St. Louis has discovered and perfected an operation for catarrhal deafness which is remarkable for its many cures. There is no cutting and it is painless. I am now using this operation in Maryville with remarkable success. Every patient treated by me has been cured or greatly benefited.

NEW FRUIT JUICES FOR HOME

Government Experiments Show Currants, Berries, Sour Cherries and Peaches May Be Used.

That the juice of currants, blackberries, black raspberries, sour cherries and peaches may be prepared and kept as successfully as grape juice and by the same methods, has now been demonstrated in the course of a series of investigations which the United States department of agriculture is conducting into the whole complicated question of fruit juices.

The juices of the fruits mentioned, it has been found, retain their characteristic color and flavor after being sterilized and stored away and can, therefore, be made available for use throughout the year in households and at soda fountains, etc. In this way it is thought much fruit that has hitherto been allowed to go to waste may be utilized.

For reasons, however, which are not as yet very thoroughly understood, the various fruits differ greatly in the effects of sterilization upon them. Thus, strawberry juice and red raspberry juice lose their distinctive colors and flavors very readily and, therefore, can not be put up on a commercial scale and marketed as grape juice is.

Lemon and orange juices also undergo peculiar changes in flavor after sterilization and no satisfactory method of overcoming this obstacle has yet been developed. Lemon juice is the more promising but this, too, can not yet be manufactured commercially with success.

With certain precautions, on the other hand, pineapple can be made to yield a sterilized juice of a very attractive flavor, which should have distinct commercial possibilities.

The juice, however, should be kept in cold storage at from 32 to 35 degrees Fahrenheit after sterilization, and most of the suspended material should be removed by means of a milk separator or by filtration. Moreover, where atmospheric oxygen is not excluded in the process of bottling, the juice darkens gradually.

These studies have already resulted in the discovery of a method producing concentrated apple juice by freezing which is not only easier to ship than ordinary cider, but which will keep much better. In the concentrated juice, however, the presence of sugar and acid retards the growth of micro-organisms and fermentation is very slow.

Similar methods are now being tried out with other fruits. In the case of grape fruit juice, for example, concentration to a syrup by freezing is easily accomplished and it appears at the present time that there are great commercial possibilities in this method although further experimentation is considered necessary. In the case of fruits whose juices do not suffer any change of flavor or color in the process of sterilization, this method is not likely to prove necessary.

Details of the experiments with a discussion of the effects upon the various fruits of sterilization, exposure to atmospheric oxygen after sterilization, storage at low temperature, etc., etc., are contained in a new bulletin of the United States department of agriculture, No. 241, Studies on Fruit Juices.

HENS NET $10 TO $20 YEARLY

Bowling Green Breeder Realizes Big Profit From Poultry—Has Fine Stock.

Hens which net their owner from $10 to $20 each per year are the rule, rather than the exception on the farm of L. E. Meyer, Bowling Green says the St. Louis Republic.

The average net income per farm here is from 50 cents to $1.50, so that the high rate of income given above should be an inspiration to breeding of pure-bred fowls, for no mongrel hen can produce eggs enough to much more than pay her expenses.

Mr. Meyer, who is vice president of the Missouri State Poultry Board, started to breeding Black Langshans in 1896, and began winning prizes at poultry shows in 1899. Since that time he has bred birds which have won their share of the ribbons and specials at the large shows within a radius of 1,000 miles of home.

PREVENTS FLIES BREEDING.

Powdered Hellebore, or Borax, Safe Method of Destroying Larvae of Pest.

A safe and effective weapon against the typhoid or house fly has been found in powdered hellebore by scientists of the department of agriculture. Flies lay their eggs chiefly in stable manure. Powdered hellebore mixed with water and sprinkled over the manure, will destroy the larvae which are hatched from the eggs. Since powdered hellebore is readily obtainable, this puts in the hands of everyone a remedy for one of the pests that has been found dangerous as well as troublesome. Powdered hellebore, however, will not kill adult flies which must be swatted or trapped.

It has long been known that flies breed in manure but previous methods of destroying the larvae there by the use of strong chemicals have been open to the objection that the treatment under some conditions lessened the fertilizing value of the manure or actually injured vegetation. This is not true of powdered hellebore. Government experiments have shown that the hellebore is entirely decomposed in the course of the fermentation of the manure and that even in excessive quantities it does no harm except to the larvae it is intended to destroy.

One-half pound of powdered hellebore mixed with 10 gallons of water is sufficient to kill the larvae in eight bushels or 10 cubic feet, of manure. The mixture should be sprinkled carefully over the pile, especial attention being paid to the outer edges. In most places hellebore is obtainable in 100-pound lots at a cost of 11 cents a pound. This makes the cost of the treatment a little less than seven-tenths of a cent per bushel of manure. The money involved is, therefore, trifling in comparison with the benefits to the individual and the community from the practical elimination of the disease-spreading fly.

Considerable saving may be effected through the substitution of borax for powdered hellebore. Applied at the rate of .52 pounds per 8 bushels of manure, borax is as effective as powdered hellebore in killing the larvae but costs less than half a cent for each bushel of manure treated.

In larger quantities, however, or when the manure itself is spread at a greater rate than 15 tons to the acre, some damage to crops may result. Large quantities of manure are often used by market gardeners and others, and there is always danger of carelessness in applying the borax. The use of the more expensive but safer hellebore is therefore recommended for the treatment of manure. Borax is recommended for all other refuse in which flies may lay eggs.

Scientists who have been working for years to eliminate the fly are convinced that the use of one or the other of these simple measures is a public duty wherever manure and refuse exist. Sanitarians, however, strongly advise the removal of refuse heaps or other unnecessary rubbish or breeding places for flies.

In breeding places which cannot be thus disposed of—such as manure or stables—the daily use of powdered hellebore will keep the flies from breeding in these favorite breeding grounds. The best results are obtainable in a community where everyone cleans up his premises, traps or kills the flies, and systematically treats the manure and other breeding places with powdered hellebore.

The fly is not only a nuisance to human being and live stock; it spreads disease and filth and is a menace to public health which cannot be tolerated in the face of a demonstrated remedy.

Keep Bran Before Chicks.

Either a good mash mixture or dry bran should be kept constantly before both the growing chicks and the layers. Let them help themselves, and you can almost see the youngsters grow.

MAY AVERT CROP DAMAGES

State Agricultural Expert Advises Farmers as to Late Sowing to Prevent Waste.

This is an unusual season in Missouri—in fact it has been a peculiar year thus far, upsetting the common run of farm practices in so many portions of this state, says Jewell Mayes, secretary of the state board of agriculture, prefacing advice to offset the flood damages.

The result is that the question of emergency, catch or substitute crops is well nigh a paramount issue.

Up into the last half of May in many neighborhoods the dry weather aided the chinch bug and Hessian fly in injuring much wheat, in many cases leaving the wheat not worth the binding. This same dry weather prevented some of the late planting of corn from coming up. Many farmers had planted their corn very deep to get the moisture—when the soaking rains began this seed corn in many fields rotted.

Wet weather continued, preventing replanting. Adding to the bad or no stand corn fields, the fields not planted at all, the abandoned wheat acreage, and the overflowed land, makes a total that shadows Independence Day with the problems of Emergency Crops as never before in years!

Just what emergency crops should as to whether he is a live stock farmer, a grain farmer or a renter. For the general or live stock farmer the "catch crop list" is broad and inviting. For the grain farmer the list is as narrow as his type of farming.

The live stock farmer, as late as or after July first, can put a portion of his catch acreage in sorghum—early amber sorghum being mighty fine. This is a standard early maturing variety in Missouri, sowing 80 to 100 pounds to the acre for a hay crop. There are many other sorghums that range from amber to kafir, milo, feterita and Sudan grass, of varying value on Missouri soils!

New era cowpeas will mature sufficiently to make a most excellent quality of hay, ranking in value with clover or alfalfa. Sow from a bushel to a bushel and a half per acre, depending upon the richness of the soil.

Rape stands easily at the head of the list as a forage crop for hogs, and can be pastured with sheep and cattle by using proper caution. Rape will bloom cattle or sheep if turned on when wet from dew or rain—and especially if these animals are hungry. Rape will appeal to live stock farmers, both on account of the quantity of succulent feed it will make and the cheapness of the seedling. Four to seven pounds of Dwarf Essex is about the quantity, and is one of the best varieties to sow in Missouri at this time.

The live stock farmer again has his choice between Hungarian or German millet. He can sow Hungarian millet later than most of the other catch crops, and do so with the promise of getting a good crop of good hay. This crop should be cut about the time the seeds in the heads are in soft dough, for the highest and best quality of hay.

Both the grain and the live stock farmer can sow German millet. The grain farmer can harvest for both hay and seed. The seed represents a cash crop and can be shipped like wheat or oats—at the price millet seed of this variety has been selling for several years past this ought to be a money-paying crop. The rich overflowed land should give splendid returns when put to German millet.

Buckwheat in the language of the street is a crop not to be sneezed at on lands poisoned with cockle burrs, morning glories, cotton weeds and other foul pestiferous annuals. For a sure smoother crop buckwheat ranks high—and there has always been good sale for the grain!

It might to some seem foolish to suggest soybeans or common field corn beans in this connection, yet we have had seasons when Ito San, Early Black Dwarf and some other early crops of soybeans would have made

"Each man must be his own judge as to the emergency crops in his particular case. In making up your mind to sow, drill or plant, be sure to bear in mind the soil is warm and full of moisture and that the growing season from the time you put the seed in the ground is at its best. Your crops will come forward with a bound from the first—and it is far better for your land to be busy producing these valuable emergency crops than to be growing bramble and brier and the whole accursed catalogue of weeds to pollute the soil for years to come.

TO SHOW "WOMAN AND WINE"

William Elliott Will Feature in Photoplay at Empire Theater Tonight.

"Woman and Wine," a photo-drama of the great Brady success of fifteen years ago, with William Elliott taking the leading role, will be shown at the Empire theater tonight. It is in five parts. The scenes are laid alternately in Paris and New York.

Dick Seymour, impersonated by Mr. Elliott, is fortunate in having a nice father and a nice girl as sweetheart. Money is coming to him. But, tempted by women and wine on the great white way of New York, he falls down badly.

His money is in Paris. In that city he goes from bad to worse and is accused of murder. From jail and death there seems no escape. But his father and sweetheart have been loyal to him and he is proved innocent of the crime and saved. He finds happiness by shunning bad company and bad habits.

FEATURE FILM AT FERN.

"Hypocrites," in Four Reels, Wednesday, July 7, Matinee and Night.

The Fern theater will show "Hypocrites," a four-reel feature film, Wednesday matinee and night, July 7. "Anthony and Cleopatra," in two reels, will be shown as an added attraction.

The story of "Hypocrites" follows: Gabriel, an ascetic monk of olden time, labors to perfect an image of Truth, consecrating himself for the task with fasting and prayer, and keeping his work a secret from his fellow monks. One, bolder than the rest, spies upon him, but is blinded by the great light of Truth and can see nothing.

The unveiling of the statue is made a fête day, and people of all classes gather to listen to the address of the abbot, who himself consents to unveil Gabriel's gift. The covering is pulled aside, and there stands a figure of Truth, asked. Unable to see with the eyes of the spirit, the mob, with one consent, rush upon Gabriel and kill him. Only two beside Gabriel can look upon Truth without flinching, a little child, and the woman who loves him. A Magdalene looks upon the statue and falls prostrate, weeping bitterly. The woman who loves him, a nun, covers the dead Gabriel with her veil, which turns from white to black as she bends over him, and nearby the Magdalene crouches.

The mob returns to destroy the statue, but Truth leaves the people and returns to her gates, which close behind her.

This forms the prologue of the story, which, told in a reverent and deeply religious vein, makes an indelible impression, and prepares the spectator for the modern scenes which form the main theme of the play.

We see Gabriel as the minister of a present-day church, frail and ill, but fired with divine inspiration. In the congregation, smug and self-satisfied, are the same people who, in the prologue, stoned the monk to death. Now they are either bored or shocked by his passionate sermon denouncing hypocrisy, and he sees that his words have been in vain. Only the woman who loved him, now a singer in his choir, and the Magdalene, who kneels in prayer long after the others have left, understand. The spying monk is now a choir boy, surreptitiously reading a newspaper during service.

Left alone in his church, the minister finds the newspaper, with its reproduction of Faugeron's painting, "The Truth," and vague memories stir. He sinks into a dream. His body in the form of Gabriel leaves his present-day body, and, accompanied by the spirit of Truth with her mirror, visits various scenes of the story, showing him, in this wondrous mirror of hers, the real actions of the characters.

WAR ANIMALS NOT NEEDED HERE.

University Expert Says Few Good Animals Have Gone to Europe.

"The European nations now at war have purchased many Missouri horses and mules which are not particularly needed in the state," says E. A. Trowbridge, professor of animal husbandry at the University of Missouri.

"Of course, they have obtained some good animals, but many of them have not been of the best, and most of the mules bought were full-aged. The older mules were bought because they could stand the trip across the Atlantic better than the younger ones. Some good cavalry horses were obtained."

Mr. Trowbridge says a few horse dealers have predicted a high market price a short time after the close of the war. They are of the opinion that most of the horses now being purchased in this country will be killed, and that soldiers will need many animals on returning to their farms.

Mr. Trowbridge believes that the market will be good, but he does not predict any exceedingly high prices. He says that this country will be able to supply any demands. A different situation might arise, he says, if the war continues for more than a year.

"Between 250,000 and 300,000 horses and 50,000 and 75,000 mules were contracted for in this country," says Mr. Trowbridge, "and the loss of these animals to the United States only means the taking away of those produced between January 1, 1914, and January 1, 1915. With a similar increase during the present year, we would again be able to supply a considerable number of horses and mules."

Missouri has furnished about as many as any other state in the union.

Can Hatch for Weeks Yet.

This is almost the last call for hatching chicks this season. But if one has patience and uses good judgment in feeding and care, he may successfully hatch chicks for several weeks yet. And these summer hatched chicks, if well raised, usually make first class breeders, and also exhibition birds. They get their mature feathers after the most heated spells of the summer are past, and will usually show up splendid in color. One advantage in hatching now is that eggs may be bought for a song from the best flocks in the country, and when one has to count the cost very closely this is quite an advantage.

TO MAKE A PERMANENT PASTURE

Mixture of Grasses and Legumes Recommended for Light Soils.

Methods for making permanent pasture on rather light, sandy soil are set forth by the farm crops department of Iowa state college.

One of the simplest mixtures you can use on your soil for permanent pasture is eight pounds timothy, six to eight pounds red clover, 8 pounds of blue grass and one pound of white clover.

This should do well on land that is not too sandy. If your ground is rather light, with considerable sand, however, it might be better to replace a portion of the timothy and red clover with other crops.

For instance, the following combination; timothy, four pounds; orchard grass, four pounds; broom grass, four pounds; white blennial sweet clover, six pounds; red clover two pounds, and mammoth clover, two pounds, together with blue grass and white clover.

This combination is a little more expensive to seed, yet it includes crops which are better adapted to conditions indicated above. It would also give you a larger variety of grasses, which would supply more feed from early spring to late fall. In fact, we usually find it advantageous to have a mixture of grasses for pasture.

In spring seeding of meadows or pastures, we find that it is advisable to seed with a nurse crop of an early maturing variety of oats or barley. By decreasing the rate of seeding by about half the amount used in growing grain alone, the grass ordinarily will not be smothered and the yield of grain not be decreased materially.

GERMAN REPLY IN KAISER'S HANDS

Note Will Probably Be Presented to Gerard Monday.

OFFICIALS SEEK SETTLEMENT.

They Have to Reckon With Public Opinion, Which Opposes Continuing Demands, and Note Will Most Likely Be a Compromise.

Berlin, July 2.—As the result of conferences on the German reply to the American note, it is now in the hands of Emperor William. The emperor's decision is expected so that the note can be presented to James W. Gerard, the American ambassador, probably July 5 or 6.

High officials are endeavoring to bring about a friendly settlement of the questions with America, and there is every reason to believe that they are anxious to make the proposals as acceptable as possible.

The officials, however, have to reckon with public opinion, which undoubtedly will oppose anything favoring of a complete acquiescence in the American position.

Friends of a settlement are working with considerable difficulty and the note probably will represent a compromise not in accordance with their desires.

SHORT WEIGHT IS CHARGED

Walker Accused of Using False Scales to Defraud Miners.

Boulder, Colo., July 2.—Four informations were filed in the county court against Andrew Walker, lessee of Monarch mine No. 1, near Louisville, charging him with having defrauded his miners by means of false scales.

The mine is owned by the National Fuel company of Denver. It is alleged that every car taken from the mine during the last few months was weighed short by 300 to 500 pounds.

Short weight of miners' output was one of the complaints made by the striking miners during the recent industrial controversy in Colorado.

Jealousy Causes Tragedy at Oxnard.

Oxnard, Cal., July 2.—William Wheeler, a negro, shot and killed C. E. Crexler, driver of a 5-cent fare automobile here, and fatally wounded "Happy" Adams, a negro. Ruby Miller, a negro, was also injured by the fire from Wheeler's revolver. The shooting occurred at the railroad station. Crexler was killed in his automobile. The tragedy was due to jealousy.

Refuse Order for Billion Cartridges.

Dunkirk, N. Y., July 2.—Agents of the British government have offered manufacturers here, at Jamestown and Hornell $35,000,000 for 1,000,000,000 cartridges to be delivered in Great Britain within the next two years. The manufacturers refused to accept the whole order because it would disorganize their regular business to fill it, but are considering one-half of it.

Municipal Saloon Starts at Sturgis.

Sturgis, S. D., July 2.—The Sturgis Municipal company, recently organized, opened its saloon here for business. The three saloons which were running here for a number of years closed their doors and quit. Sturgis is entitled to only two saloons, therefore the new company took out two licenses, a double set of bar fixtures being installed in one place.

Heart Stops; Surgeons Restore Life.

Denver, July 2.—Physicians caused the heart of Martha Carr to beat again after it had shown no evidence of beating for sixteen minutes. The surgeons had administered the anesthetic, when they observed that the heart had stopped beating. They resorted to heart massage and at the end of sixteen minutes the apparently dead girl breathed again.

ARMENIANS SUNK IN ACCORD WITH LAW

Sinking of Mule Ship Justified by Attempt to Escape.

Washington, July 2.—Official information regarding the sinking of the British steamer Armenian, with the loss of a number of American lives, is lacking, and until all details are available Secretary Lansing stated that the position of the American government could not be determined.

From news dispatches, however, officials were inclined to the view that inasmuch as the Armenian apparently refused to submit to the warning command of the German submarine to halt and attempted to escape, according to international law, the sinking of the vessel was justified, even though noncombatants were on board.

There was little tension over the incident in official quarters here after it became known that the Armenian had sought to evade capture. It was admitted that if official reports bore out the press dispatches there was no likelihood that any new cause of complaint would be added to the issues pending between the United States and Germany.

Ambassador Page reported that the Armenian was engaged "in admiralty business," but the question of how far the vessel was under the control of the British government by charter or otherwise seemed to be overshadowed in the minds of officials here by the reported resistance to capture.

WOULD EXTRADITE HUERTA

Chihuahua Governor Makes Request to Texas Executive.

Washington, July 2.—Formal request for the extradition of General Victoriano Huerta on various criminal charges has been presented to Governor Ferguson of Texas by the Villa governor of Chihuahua state.

This latest complication in the status of the former Mexican dictator, now facing prosecution at El Paso for alleged violation of American neutrality laws, was brought to the attention of the federal government by Governor Ferguson who forwarded the Villa governor's request to the state department. Secretary Lansing referred the matter to Solicitor Johnson for consideration.

So long as Huerta is wanted by the department of justice, the charges preferred by federal agents will take precedence, and until they are disposed of it is not expected that the extradition question will be decided.

Both the Villa and Carranza factions charge that Huerta was implicated in the murder of President Madero and Vice President Suarez, which followed the overthrow of the Madero administration and Huerta's assumption of power.

El Paso, Tex., July 2.—The case against Victoriano Huerta, Pascual Orozco and four others charged with conspiracy to violate the United States neutrality laws was postponed to July 13. The defendants were continued under the same bonds.

TRY TO END STRIKE BY CLOSING PLANTS

Chicago, July 2.—Manufacturers and dealers in building materials undertook to force an end to the strike of 16,000 carpenters here by shutting up shops.

Officials of the carpenters' union declared that 12,000 of their members are at work for individual contractors not members of the contractors' association, and that these have enough material on hand or available to keep them busy.

James Fryer, president of the Builders' Commercial agency, estimated 200,000 yards in Chicago mills, quarries and yards would be thrown out of work by the shutdown.

Neighborhood The Farmer

Farm life has been completely transformed through the advent of the newspaper and the telephone.

Now the farmer and his family are place in almost direct contact with his neighbors and the country in general. Now the telephone places him into immediate communication with all of his neighbors. The newspaper give him the news of the country, of everything important that has happened only a few hours before.

These two great methods of communication have neighborized the farmers, have placed the smaller communities in contact with the larger communities.

The telephone places the farmer in touch with his neighbors and incidents of personal importance. The newspaper gives the farmer the events of his community and the world.

The telephone is used at his convenience. And the newspaper is eagerly looked for by him as it comes to him through the regular mail transportation. It contains the news gathered for him by great news association from all parts of the world, and placed at his very door.

Day after day The Democrat-Forum is carried to the doors of prosperous Nodaway County farmers. They will be glad to know the news of your store Mr. Merchant, through this source. Others are using The Democrat-Forum day after day to reach these buyers. This same opportunity is offered to you.

NAB LEADER FOR MAUSOLEUM HERE?

J. M. LAWRENCE PASSED WORTHLESS CHECKS, STATE CHARGES.

HELD IN CALDWELL FOR ALLEGED BREAK

Proposed $35,000 Crypt Container at Oak Hill—Council Approved—Subscribed for Stock.

Apparently an echo to the $35,000 mausoleum proposed for Oak Hill cemetery last fall, and for which the city council granted a permission and many Maryville and Nodaway county residents pledged to buy stock, has been heard from Caldwell county. Dr. J. M. Lawrence, interested in promoting mausoleums throughout Missouri, was arrested in that county a few days ago on a charge of obtaining money on false pretenses or passing worthless checks.

He has been placed in custody at Kingston pending trial on the state charge. According to the Gallatin Democrat Mr. Lawrence has been mixed up in other "shady" ventures. The arrest of Lawrence was made by the sheriff after Lawrence had started for a drive from Hamilton.

Proposed Mausoleum Here.

A man giving his name as R. L. Lawrence of Peoria, Ill., was leader in the move here last October and November in selling stock for the proposed mausoleum in Oak Hill cemetery. After several weeks residence in the city and after getting permission from the city to make the improvement, the leaders left Maryville and have never returned, so far as is known.

The mausoleum planned here was to be 40 by 50 feet in dimensions and large enough to contain 250 crypts. It was to have been built at the southwest corner of the cemetery.

Before the city granted the mausoleum permit Councilmen Frank Garrett and Louis Gram went to Omaha at Lawrence's solicitation to view a mausoleum there. Before the city could grant permission for the mausoleum it was necessary to amend an ordinance permitting the purchase of a larger block of lots by one person or firm.

ENTERS BILLBOARD CONTEST.

Albert Kuchs Improves Poster Spaces—Prize Will Double Rates.

A country-wide contest, inaugurated by the Poster Advertising association of Chicago for the improvement of bill posting service in the United States, has been entered by Albert Kuchs of Maryville. Photographs of each were taken and submitted to contest headquarters. Acknowledgement of their receipt was received by Mr. Kuchs today. The contest closed yesterday but awards will not be announced for several weeks.

First prize of $50 is offered, the billboards being rated according to size of city in which they are located. The receipt of a prize also entitles the proprietor to doubling of space rates.

JUNE HAD 10 CLEAR DAYS.

18 Days Were Cloudy, 2 Partially—Rained .39 Inches Last Night.

Of the thirty days in June, only one-third were clear while eighteen were entirely cloudy and two were partially cloudy, according to records maintained by J. R. Brink. The average temperature during June was rather mild, though it did climb to 91 degrees on June 25. The minimum temperature was 41 degrees.

The rainfall was .39 of an inch last night and this morning, Mr. Brink reports. This makes 7.01 inches since June 1.

Miss Annie Boedeker of Rayenwood came to Maryville last night to visit a few days with Miss Irene Dougan.

RUSS RETREAT ON

TEUTONS IN RAPID ADVANCE FROM GALICIA INTO POLAND.

TWO MILLION AT FRONT

Austro-German Army Numbers Many—Cross Tanew Forest and Near Frontier—Allies Puzzled.

London, July 2.—The northward drive of the Austro-German armies from Galicia into Poland is daily becoming more formidable and England is puzzled whether they propose to make their main effort in this direction, instead of maintaining a concentrated offensive to the eastward to force the Russians out of the south-east tip of Galicia.

Whatever the ultimate object is the fighting along the Gnila Lipa river has not abated, and the Berlin official communication not only records progress in this sector, but farther north in the arc around Lemberg as well as along what has now become the northern front, between the Vistula and Bug rivers.

The Austro-German forces on this front are estimated at 2,000,000 men, and their progress has been rapid. They have crossed the forest fringing the Tanew river, and are not far from Zamosc fortress, twenty-five miles north of the Galician frontier.

The Arras sector storm center. The Arras sector maintains its reputation as the storm center of the western front, but despite the fact that the losses are piling up daily, neither side has been able to deliver a decisive blow.

A dispatch from Athens says that the allies have taken the Turkish stronghold of Krithia, on the Gallipoli peninsula, but there is no confirmation.

The first stroke against British naval craft in home waters for some time is announced briefly by the admiral, which says that fifteen men have been lost by the mining or torpedoing of the destroyer Lightning, an old craft laid down two decades ago.

The Austrian official report announces the total body taken during June by the allied troops during the fighting in the northeast comprises 621 officers and 194,000 men, ninety-three guns, 364 machine guns, seventy-eight caissons and 100 military railway carriages.

Funeral services will be held at the McKibban home at ten o'clock tomorrow morning, conducted by the Rev. G. S. Cox, pastor of the First Methodist church. The burial will be made in Miriam cemetery.

Miss Monroe is survived by the sister with whom she had made her home, and by one brother, Angus Monroe, living four miles east of Maryville.

DEFER PAVING ACT

COUNCIL MAY POSTPONE STREET IMPROVEMENT BILLS.

GUARD AGAINST FLAWS

City Officials Take Time to Correct Resolutions and Grade Ordinance Bills—City Has 233 Dogs.

The consideration of bills for grade ordinances and paving resolutions, which was scheduled to come before the council in regular session tonight, will probably have to be deferred again, according to City Attorney W. H. Crawford. The matter has been hanging fire a couple of days on account of an endeavor this time to let no legal flaws creep into the bills or resolutions.

The consideration of the paving bills and resolutions followed the repeal of former bills and resolutions, because of technical flaws relative to establishing the curb lines and failing to specify definitely enough what change the paving would necessitate.

The new grade ordinances and resolutions have been in course of preparation the last week, or since the repeal of the old ones. Two previous meetings have been called to consider the new bills, but on account of a delay in getting all in "ship shape," it was postponed until tonight.

City Had 233 Dogs.

The paving matter will probably be continued from tonight until some time early next week, possibly Tuesday or Wednesday.

Little other business is scheduled to come before the council tonight, other than the routine allowance of bills and receiving monthly reports.

The report of the city dog enumerator, to be submitted tonight, shows that there were 233 dogs in the city in June, of which the Fourth ward furnished nearly half.

The report shows there were 43 dogs in the First ward, 61 in the Second, 35 in the Third, and 104 in the Fourth ward. This is compared to 179 enumerated in June, 1914.

Miss Clair Kidder of Bedford has been employed as teacher of the grammar department of the Ravenwood public schools.

Mrs. R. G. Sanders and daughter, Marian, left last night for St. Joseph to visit Mr. Sanders' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sanders. In company with her grandparents, little Miss Sanders will leave in a few days for Auandale, Minn., to spend the coming two months.

Illinois Guest Departs.

Mrs. A. S. Charles of Peoria, Ill., who has been spending several weeks visiting Mrs. C. M. Charles and family, left yesterday for St. Joseph to visit other relatives, after which she will leave for her home.

ASSAULTED WIFE, CHARGE

Frank Coffin Held on Complaint of Spouse, Suing for Divorce—Preliminary Tomorrow.

Frank Coffin was arrested this morning on a charge of common assault on his wife, Leona Coffin, who is suing him for divorce. Mrs. Coffin made out the complaint. She is said to have called officers several times, alleging Coffin was mistreating her.

Coffin was released on $200 bond until his preliminary before Justice W. L. Johnson tomorrow morning. It was to have been held this afternoon, but on account of the condition of the defendant, was deferred.

The suit for divorce against him is docketed for hearing in the September term of circuit court here. The Coffin family, which also comprises several children, live upstairs over the Nunneley grocery store.

NEGROES WILL NOT CELEBRATE.

Annual Emancipation Anniversary Stunt Called Off, Account of Non-Support.

The celebration to have been held here August 4 by the negroes of Maryville in celebration of the emancipation of their race in this country and the West Indies, has been called off for this year on account of lack of funds, according to Oliver Vance, chairman of the canvassing committee. The committee estimated it would take a fund of $611.25 to defray expenses of the celebration this year. They failed to get near that amount after several solicitations throughout the city. A deficit resulted from last year's celebration, it is said.

Plans are being made to hold the celebration in Parnell this year instead.

HOLD MAJORS RITES.

Body Brought from St. Joseph—Funeral at Brother's Home.

The funeral services for E. R. Majors, who died Wednesday at his home in St. Joseph, were held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of his brother, L. T. Majors, 1062 East Thompson street, conducted by the Rev. Gilbert S. Cox, pastor of the First Methodist church. The body was brought to Maryville last night.

The Parnell board also has requested everybody to clean up and cut weeds from property this summer. A halt on the automobile cut-outs also is urged.

BEGINS HARVESTING WHEAT.

Roland Thomas, Near Town, Says the Grain Is Down But Can Be Cut.

Roland Thomas began cutting wheat on his farm adjoining the city limits to the southeast, yesterday afternoon. He says the wind storm and rain has made much of the wheat fall, but that all can be cut in most places.

Mr. Thomas' wheat will yield about 30 bushels to the acre. The ground is quite firm despite the heavy rains recently.

CLEARMONT, BURLINGTON, WHITE CLOUD CELEBRATE TOMORROW.

TO HAVE RACES, GAMES, DINNERS AND CONCERTS

Varied Amusements and Entertainment Arranged for Visitors—To Pienle Sunday—Monday Day of Rest.

Despite gloomy weather conditions today plans are going ahead for the various Independence day or "Fourth of July" celebrations over Nodaway county tomorrow, Sunday and Monday. While Maryville will observe the holiday peacefully both Sunday and Monday, and not at all tomorrow, several other communities and towns in the county are laying great stress on the occasion.

Burlington Junction and Clearmont plan the most general celebrations tomorrow. The Fourth Regiment band of Maryville will furnish music at Burlington Junction. In addition to that there will be addresses, free entertainments of various kinds, a steam swing, a big basket dinner, a baby show, athletic contests and a base ball game between Burlington Junction and Hopkins, if the weather is favorable then.

The entertainment will begin at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and only end early tomorrow night. A street carnival will be the closing number.

Clearmont Celebrates, Too.

Clearmont also is going ahead with its plans for the "Fourth of July" celebration tomorrow. The band will play, addresses will be made, fireworks will be furnished at night and a base ball game and foot races are scheduled.

A basket dinner also is planned. The base ball game will be between the Clearmont and the Clarinda, Ia., teams.

Maitland also is planning a big celebration, the features being a base ball game, races of various kinds both by persons and horses, a hand concert and speaking. Unusually good races are proposed. Many Maryville residents are intending to go to either Burlington Junction or Clearmont tomorrow afternoon.

Rural Communities to Gather.

A rural community celebration also is planned for tomorrow by White Cloud Baptist church, southwest of Maryville, on the church lawn, if the weather is favorable. The Rev. G. S. Cox of this city is scheduled to speak. A base ball game between White Cloud and Arkoe is planned.

Sheridan also is arranging for a gala day tomorrow with the usual band music, speaking and a basket dinner and automobile races.

A number of picnics and outdoor frolics also are planned for Sunday over the county, partially in observance of Independence day. The gospel team of the First Baptist church here will conduct services at New Hope, east of Hopkins, at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The team will be composed of Ray Davis, Clyde Avitt, G. B. Holmes, William Everhart and James Markwell.

Ravenwood Waits Till Monday.

The Palestine church community, southwest of Maryville, also is going ahead with arrangements for an observance of the anniversary of the declaration of Independence Sunday. The features will be a basket dinner and music and speaking. The Rev. R. L. Finch and the Rev. G. S. Cox of this city are scheduled to assist in the sacred services.

Ravenwood will defer its observance of the holiday until Monday, when it will give a basket picnic and furnish music and speaking in the park there. The Fourth Regiment band will go to Lenox, Ia., Monday to furnish concerts in a "Fourth of July" celebration, while Charles McCaffrey of Maryville is slated to make a speech at New Market, Ia.

We are glad anyway that the storm of Wednesday evening did not extend to Bowling Green, Pike county.

The newest drink is called the "Wilson-Bryan split." It consists of a glass of grape juice with a little dash of lemon.

The governor of Kansas delivered a very effective argument for temperance yesterday in very few words. A new law is going into effect in that state providing for a civil service examination for state employees. The governor issued an instruction to the commission that no man who takes a drink can work for the state of Kansas.

The Teutonic victories over Russia do not seem to have begotten any peace sentiment in that country. The Russians have grimly set about to reorganize their war ministry, have established a board of munitions, and propose to get things on a more orderly and business-like basis and come again.

President Wilson will make no "swing around the circle" nor indulge in any "whirlwind speech making trips" this season. He will continue to stay on the job and saw wood. As a matter of fact there never has been a president who spent more hours in actual work or who attended more faithfully to his duties. In this day of golfing, pink tea and tanko statesmen it is refreshing to find one solid and serious enough in his attention to the people's business to make business and not pleasure his chief concern.

ONE-IDEA CANDIDATES.

Speaking of public men and popular candidates, the Moberly Democrat

makes the following very sensible observations:

"This country has gone wild on making every man a candidate for office who does something sensational or performs a reasonably worthy act. It seems that every time a man performs a duty in some special matter to the approval of the public he must be made a candidate for some office. This country has had enough of sensational, hobby or one-idea candidates. The one-idea candidacy has been worked to the limit and it is about time it was relegated to the rear and men be elevated to these places on account of their broad knowledge, integrity and actual ability to grasp and pass upon all questions that may come within their province."

BURLINGTON JUNCTION.

Deafness

Are You Deaf or Hard of Hearing?

Now is the ideal time to treat deafness. Ninety per cent of all deafness is caused by catarrh. Dr. Edwards of St. Louis has discovered and perfected an operation for catarrhal deafness which is remarkable for its many cures. There is no cutting and it is painless. I am now using this operation in Maryville with remarkable success. Every patient treated by me has been cured or greatly benefited.

NEW FRUIT JUICES FOR HOME

Government Experiments Show Currants, Berries, Sour Cherries and Peaches May Be Used.

That the juice of currants, blackberries, black raspberries, sour cherries and peaches may be prepared and kept as successfully as grape juice and by the same methods, has now been demonstrated in the course of a series of investigations which the United States department of agriculture is conducting into the whole complicated question of fruit juices.

The juices of the fruits mentioned, it has been found, retain their characteristic color and flavor after being sterilized and stored away and can, therefore, be made available for use throughout the year in households and at soda fountains, etc. In this way it is thought much fruit that has hitherto been allowed to go to waste may be utilized.

For reasons, however, which are not as yet very thoroughly understood, the various fruits differ greatly in the effects of sterilization upon them. Thus, strawberry juice and red raspberry juice lose their distinctive colors and flavors very readily and, therefore, can not be put up on a commercial scale and marketed as grape juice is.

Lemon and orange juices also undergo peculiar changes in flavor after sterilization and no satisfactory method of overcoming this obstacle has yet been developed. Lemon juice is the more promising but this, too, can not yet be manufactured commercially with success. With certain precautions, on the other hand, pineapple can be made to yield a sterilized juice of a very attractive flavor, which should have distinct commercial possibilities.

The juice, however, should be kept in cold storage at from 32 to 35 degrees Fahrenheit after sterilization, and most of the suspended material should be removed by means of a milk separator or by filtration. Moreover, where atmospheric oxygen is not excluded in the process of bottling, the juice darkens gradually.

These studies have already resulted in the discovery of a method producing concentrated apple juice by freezing which is not only easier to ship than ordinary cider, but which will keep much better. In the concentrated juice, however, the presence of sugar and acid retards the growth of micro-organisms and fermentation is very slow.

Similar methods are now being tried out with other fruits. In the case of grape fruit juice, for example, concentration to a syrup by freezing is easily accomplished and it appears at the present time that there are great commercial possibilities in this method although further experimentation is considered necessary. In the case of fruits whose juices do not suffer any change of flavor or color in the process of sterilization, this method is not likely to prove necessary.

Details of the experiments with a discussion of the effects upon the various fruits of sterilization, exposure to atmospheric oxygen after sterilization, storage at low temperature, etc., etc., are contained in a new bulletin of the United States department of agriculture, No. 241, Studies on Fruit Juices.

HENS NET $10 TO $20 YEARLY

Bowling Green Breeder Realizes Big Profit From Poultry—Has Fine Stock.

Hens which net their owner from $10 to $20 each per year are the rule, rather than the exception on the farm of L. E. Meyer, Bowling Green says the St. Louis Republic.

The average net income per farm-hen is from 50 cents to $1.50, so that the high rate of income given above should be an inspiration to breeding of pure-bred fowls, for no mongrel hen can produce eggs enough to much more than pay her expenses.

Mr. Meyer, who is vice president of the Missouri State Poultry Board, started to breeding Black Langshans in 1896, and began winning prizes at poultry shows in 1899. Since that time he has bred birds which have won their share of the ribbons and specials at the large shows within a radius of 1,000 miles of home.

PREVENTS FLIES BREEDING.

Powdered Hellebore, or Borax, Safe Method of Destroying Larvae of Pest.

A safe and effective weapon against the typhoid or house fly has been found in powdered hellebore by scientists of the department of agriculture. Flies lay their eggs chiefly in stable manure. Powdered hellebore mixed with water and sprinkled over the manure, will destroy the larvae which are hatched from the eggs. Since powdered hellebore is readily obtainable, this puts in the hands of everyone a remedy for one of the pests that has been found dangerous as well as troublesome. Powdered hellebore, however, will not kill adult flies which must be swatted or trapped.

It has long been known that flies breed in manure but previous methods of destroying the larvae there by the use of strong chemicals have been open to the objection that the treatment under some conditions lessened the fertilizing value of the manure or actually injured vegetation. This is not true of powdered hellebore. Government experiments have shown that the hellebore is entirely decomposed in the course of the fermentation of the manure and that even in excessive quantities it does no harm except to the larvae it is intended to destroy.

One-half pound of powdered hellebore mixed with 10 gallons of water is sufficient to kill the larvae in eight bushels or 10 cubic feet, of manure. The mixture should be sprinkled carefully over the pile, especial attention being paid to the outer edges. In most places hellebore is obtainable in 100-pound lots at a cost of 11 cents a pound. This makes the cost of the treatment a little less than seven-tenths of a cent per bushel of manure.

The money involved is, therefore, trifling in comparison with the benefits to the individual and the community from the practical elimination of the disease-spreading fly.

Considerable saving may be effected through the substitution of borax for powdered hellebore. Applied at the rate of .62 pounds per 8 bushels of manure, borax is as effective as powdered hellebore in killing the larvae but costs less than half a cent for each bushel of manure treated.

In larger quantities, however, or when the manure itself is spread at a greater rate than 15 tons to the acre, some damage to crops may result. Large quantities of manure are often used by market gardeners and others, and there is always danger of carelessness in applying the borax. The use of the more expensive but safer hellebore is therefore recommended for the treatment of manure. Borax is recommended for all other refuse in which flies may lay eggs.

Scientists who have been working for years to eliminate the fly are convinced that the use of one or the other of these simple measures is a public duty wherever manure and refuse exist. Sanitarians, however, strongly advise the removal of refuse heaps or other unnecessary rubbish or breeding places for flies.

In breeding places which cannot be thus disposed of—such as manure or stables—the daily use of powdered hellebore will keep the flies from breeding in these favorite breeding grounds. The best results are obtainable in a community where everyone cleans up his premises, traps or kills the flies, and systematically treats the manure and other breeding places with powdered hellebore.

The fly is not only a nuisance to human being and live stock; it spreads disease and filth and is a menace to public health which cannot be tolerated in the face of a demonstrated remedy.

MAY AVERT CROP DAMAGES

State Agricultural Expert Advises Farmers as to Late Sowing to Prevent Waste.

This is an unusual season in Missouri—in fact it has been a peculiar year thus far, upsetting the common run of farm practices in so many portions of this state, says Jewell Mayes, secretary of the state board of agriculture, prefacing advice to offset the flood damages.

The result is that the question of emergency, catch or substitute crops is well nigh a paramount issue.

Up into the last half of May in many neighborhoods the dry weather aided the chinch bug and Hessian fly in injuring much wheat, in many cases leaving the wheat not worth the binding. This same dry weather prevented some of the late planting of corn from coming up. Many farmers had planted their corn very deep to get the moisture—when the soaking rains began this seed corn in many fields rotted.

Wet weather continued, preventing replanting. Adding to the bad or no stand corn fields, the fields not planted at all, the abandoned wheat acreage, and the overflowed land, makes a total that shadows Independence Day with the problems of Emergency Crops as never before in years!

Just what emergency crops should be sown to whether he is a live stock farmer, a grain farmer or a renter. For the general or live stock farmer the "catch crop list" is broad and inviting. For the grain farmer the list is as narrow as his type of farming.

The live stock farmer, as late as or after July first, can put a portion of his catch acreage in sorghum—early amber sorghum being mighty fine. This is a standard early maturing variety in Missouri, sowing 80 to 100 pounds to the acre for a hay crop. There are many other sorghums that range from amber to kafir, milo, feterita and Sudan grass, of varying value on Missouri soils!

New era cowpeas will mature sufficiently to make a most excellent quality of hay, ranking in value with clover or alfalfa. Sow from a bushel to a bushel and a half per acre, depending upon the richness of the soil.

Rape stands easily at the head of the list as a forage crop for hogs, and can be pastured with sheep and cattle by using proper caution. Rape will bloom or sheep if turned on when wet from dew or rain—and especially if these animals are hungry. Rape will appeal to live stock farmers, both on account of the quantity of succulent feed it will make and the cheapness of the seedling. Four to seven pounds of Dwarf Essex is about the quantity, and is one of the best varieties to sow in Missouri at this time.

The live stock farmer again has his choice between Hungarian or German millet. He can sow Hungarian millet later than most of the other catch crops, and do so with the promise of getting a good crop of good hay. This crop should be cut about the time the seeds in the heads are in soft dough, for the highest and best quality of hay.

Both the grain and the live stock farmer can sow German millet. The grain farmer can harvest for both hay and seed. The seed represents a cash crop and can be shipped like wheat or oats—at the price millet seed of this variety has been selling for several years past this ought to be a money-paying crop. The rich overflowed land should give splendid returns when put to German millet.

Buckwheat in the language of the street is a crop not to be sneezed at on lands poisoned with cockle burrs, morning glories, cotton weeds and other foul pestiferous annuals. For a sure another crop buckwheat ranks high—and there has always been good sale for the grain!

It might to some seem foolish to suggest soybeans or common field corn beans in this connection, yet we have had seasons when Ito San, Early Black Dwarf and some other early varieties of soybeans would have made

"Each man must be his own judge as to the emergency crops in his particular case. In making up your mind to sow, drill or plant, be sure to bear in mind the soil is warm and full of moisture and that the growing season from the time you put the seed in the ground is at its best. Your crops will come forward with a bound from the first—and it is far better for your land to be busy producing these valuable emergency crops than to be growing bramble and briar and the whole accursed catalogue of weeds to pollute the soil for years to come.

TO SHOW "WOMAN AND WINE."

William Elliott Will Feature in Photoplay at Empire Theater Tonight.

"Woman and Wine," a photo-drama of the great Brady success of fifteen years ago, with William Elliott taking the leading role, will be shown at the Empire theater tonight. It is in five parts. The scenes are laid alternately in Paris and New York.

Dick Seymour, impersonated by Mr. Elliott, is fortunate in having a nice father and a nice girl as sweetheart. Money is coming to him. But, tempted by women and wine on the great white way of New York, he falls down badly.

His money is in Paris. In that city he goes from bad to worse and is accused of murder. From jail and death there seems no escape. But his father and sweetheart have been loyal to him and he is proved innocent of the crime and saved. He finds happiness by shunning bad company and bad habits.

FEATURE FILM AT FERN.

"Hypocrites," in Four Reels, Wednesday, July 7, Matinee and Night.

The Fern theater will show "Hypocrites," a four-reel feature film, Wednesday matinee and night, July 7. "Anthony and Cleopatra," in two reels, will be shown as an added attraction.

The story of "Hypocrites" follows:

Gabriel, an ascetic monk of olden time, labors to perfect an image of Truth, consecrating himself for the task with fasting and prayer, and keeping his work a secret from his fellow monks. One, bolder than the rest, spies upon him, but is blinded by the great light of Truth and can see nothing.

The unveiling of the statue is made a fête day, and people of all classes gather to listen to the address of the abbot, who himself consents to unveil Gabriel's gift. The covering is pulled aside, and there stands a figure of Truth, naked. Unable to see with the eyes of the spirit, the mob, with one consent, rush upon Gabriel and kill him. Only two beside Gabriel can look upon Truth without flinching, a little child, and the woman who loves him. A Magdalene looks upon the statue and falls prostrate, weeping bitterly. The woman who loves him, a nun, covers the dead Gabriel with her veil, which turns from white to black as she bends over him, and nearby the Magdalene crouches.

The mob returns to destroy the statue, but Truth leaves the people and returns to her gates, which close behind her.

This forms the prologue of the story, which, told in a reverent and deeply religious vein, makes an indelible impression, and prepares the spectator for the modern scenes which form the main theme of the play.

We see Gabriel as the minister of a present-day church, frail and ill, but fired with divine inspiration. In the congregation, smug and self-satisfied, are the same people who, in the prologue, stoned the monk to death. Now they are either bored or shocked by his passionate sermon denouncing hypocrisy, and he sees that his words have been in vain. Only the woman who loved him, now a singer in his choir, and the Magdalene, who kneels in prayer long after the others have left, understand. The spying monk is now a choir boy, surreptitiously reading a newspaper during service.

Left alone in his church, the minister finds the newspaper, with its reproduction of Faugeron's painting, "The Truth," and vague memories stir. He sinks into a dream. His body in the form of Gabriel leaves his present-day body, and, accompanied by the spirit of Truth with her mirror, visits various scenes of the story, showing him, in this wondrous mirror of hers, the real actions of the characters.

WAR ANIMALS NOT NEEDED HERE.

University Expert Says Few Good Animals Have Gone to Europe.

"The European nations now at war have purchased many Missouri horses and mules which are not particularly needed in the state," says E. A. Trowbridge, professor of animal husbandry at the University of Missouri.

"Of course, they have obtained some good animals, but many of them have not been of the best, and most of the mules bought were full-aged. The older mules were bought because they could stand the trip across the Atlantic better than the younger ones. Some good cavalry horses were obtained."

Mr. Trowbridge says a few horse dealers have predicted a high market price a short time after the close of the war. They are of the opinion that most of the horses now being purchased in this country will be killed, and that soldiers will need many animals on returning to their farms.

Mr. Trowbridge believes that the market will be good, but he does not predict any exceedingly high prices. He says that this country will be able to supply any demands. A different situation might arise, he says, if the war continues for more than a year.

"Between 250,000 and 300,000 horses and 50,000 and 75,000 mules were contracted for in this country," says Mr. Trowbridge, "and the loss of these animals to the United States only means the taking away of those produced between January 1, 1914, and January 1, 1915. With a similar increase during the present year, we would again be able to supply a considerable number of horses and mules."

Missouri has furnished about as many as any other state in the union.

Can Hatch for Weeks Yet.

This is almost the last call for hatching chicks this season. But if one has patience and uses good judgment in feeding and care, he may successfully hatch chicks for several weeks yet. And these summer hatched chicks, if well raised, usually make first class breeders, and also exhibition birds. They get their mature feathers after the most heated spells of the summer are past, and will usually show up splendid in color. One advantage in hatching now is that eggs may be bought for a song from the best flocks in the country, and when one has to count the cost very closely this is quite an advantage.

Many precious stones may be "reconstructed," but not the emerald.

TO MAKE A PERMANENT PASTURE

Mixture of Grasses and Legumes Recommended for Light Soils.

Methods for making permanent pasture on rather light, sandy soil are set forth by the farm crops department of Iowa state college.

One of the simplest mixtures you can use on your soil for permanent pasture is eight pounds timothy, six to eight pounds red clover, 8 pounds of blue grass and one pound of white clover.

This should do well on land that is not too sandy. If your ground is rather light, with considerable sand, however, it might be better to replace a portion of the timothy and red clover with other crops.

For instance, the following combination: timothy, four pounds; orchard grass, four pounds; brome grass, four pounds; white biennial sweet clover, six pounds; red clover two pounds, and mammoth clover, two pounds, together with blue grass and white clover.

This combination is a little more expensive to seed, yet it includes crops which are better adapted to conditions indicated above. It would also give you a larger variety of grasses, which would supply more feed from early spring to late fall. In fact, we usually find it advantageous to have a mixture of grasses for pasture.

In spring seeding of meadows or pastures, we find that it is advisable to seed with a nurse crop of an early maturing variety of oats or barley. By decreasing the rate of seeding by about half the amount used in growing grain alone, the grass ordinarily will not be smothered and the yield of grain will not be decreased materially.

GERMAN REPLY IN KAISER'S HANDS

Note Will Probably Be Presented to Gerard Monday.

OFFICIALS SEEK SETTLEMENT.

They Have to Reckon With Public Opinion, Which Opposes Continuing Demands, and Note Will Most Likely Be a Compromise.

Berlin, July 2.—As the result of conferences on the German reply to the American note, it is now in the hands of Emperor William. The emperor's decision is expected so that the note can be presented to James W. Gerard, the American ambassador, probably July 5 or 6.

High officials are endeavoring to bring about a friendly settlement of the questions with America, and there is every reason to believe that they are anxious to make the proposals as acceptable as possible.

The officials, however, have to reckon with public opinion, which undoubtedly will oppose anything favoring of a complete acquiescence in the American position.

Friends of a settlement are working with considerable difficulty and the note probably will represent a compromise not in accordance with their desires.

SHORT WEIGHT IS CHARGED

Walker Accused of Using False Scales to Defraud Miners.

Boulder, Colo., July 2.—Four informations were filed in the county court against Andrew Walker, lessee of Monarch mine No. 1, near Louisville, charging him with having defrauded his miners by means of false scales.

The mine is owned by the National Fuel company of Denver. It is alleged that every car taken from the mine during the last few months was weighed short by 300 to 500 pounds.

Short weight of miners' output was one of the complaints made by the striking miners during the recent industrial controversy in Colorado.

Jealousy Causes Tragedy at Oxnard.

Oxnard, Cal., July 2.—William Wheeler, a negro, shot and killed C. E. Crexler, driver of a 5-cent fare automobile here, and fatally wounded "Happy" Adams, a negro. Ruby Miller, a negro, was also injured by the fire from Wheeler's revolver. The shooting occurred at the railroad station. Crexler was killed in his automobile. The tragedy was due to jealousy.

Refuse Order for Billion Cartridges.

Dunkirk, N. Y., July 2.—Agents of the British government have offered manufacturers here, at Jamestown and Hornell $35,000,000 for 1,000,000,000 cartridges to be delivered in Great Britain within the next two years. The manufacturers refused to accept the whole order because it would disorganize their regular business to fill it, but are considering one-half of it.

Municipal Saloon Starts at Sturgis.

Sturgis, S. D., July 2.—The Sturgis Municipal company, recently organized, opened its saloon here for business. The three saloons which were running here for a number of years closed their doors and quit. Sturgis is entitled to only two saloons, therefore the new company took out two licenses, a double set of bar fixtures being installed in one place.

Heart Stops; Surgeons Restore Life.

Denver, July 2.—Physicians caused the heart of Martha Carr to beat again after it had shown no evidence of beating for sixteen minutes. The surgeons had administered the anesthetic, when they observed that the heart had stopped beating. They resorted to heart massage and at the end of sixteen minutes the apparently dead girl breathed again.

ARMENI N SUNK IN ACCORD WITH LAW

Sinking of Mule Ship Justified by Attempt to Escape.

Washington, July 2.—Official information regarding the sinking of the British steamer Armenian, with the loss of a number of American lives, is lacking, and until all details are available Secretary Lansing stated that the position of the American government could not be determined.

From news dispatches, however, officials were inclined to the view that inasmuch as the Armenian apparently refused to submit to the warning command of the German submarine to halt and attempted to escape, according to international law, the sinking of the vessel was justified, even though noncombatants were on board.

There was little tension over the incident in official quarters here after it became known that the Armenian had sought to evade capture.

It was admitted that if official reports bore out the press dispatches there was no likelihood that any new cause of complaint would be added to the issues pending between the United States and Germany.

Ambassador Page reported that the Armenian was engaged "in admiralty business," but the question of how far the vessel was under the control of the British government by charter or otherwise seemed to be overshadowed in the minds of officials here by the reported resistance to capture.

WOULD EXTRADITE HUERTA

Chihuahua Governor Makes Request to Texas Executive.

Washington, July 2.—Formal request for the extradition of General Victoriano Huerta on various criminal charges has been presented to Governor Ferguson of Texas by the Villa governor of Chihuahua state.

This latest complication in the status of the former Mexican dictator, now facing prosecution at El Paso for alleged violation of American neutrality laws, was brought to the attention of the federal government by Governor Ferguson, who forwarded the Villa governor's request to the state department. Secretary Lansing referred the matter to Solicitor Johnson for consideration.

So long as Huerta is wanted by the department of justice, the charges preferred by federal agents will take precedence, and until they are disposed of it is not expected that the extradition question will be decided. Both the Villa and Carranza factions charge that Huerta was implicated in the murder of President Madero and Vice President Suarez, which followed the overthrow of the Madero administration and Huerta's assumption of power.

El Paso, Tex., July 2.—The case against Victoriano Huerta, Pascual Orozco and four others charged with conspiracy to violate the United States neutrality laws was postponed to July 12. The defendants were continued under the same bonds.

TRY TO END STRIKE
BY CLOSING PLANTS

Chicago, July 2.—Manufacturers and dealers in building materials undertook to force an end to the strike of 16,000 carpenters here by shutting up shops.

Officials of the carpenters' union declared that 12,000 of their members are at work for individual contractors not members of the contractors' association, and that these have enough material on hand or available to keep them busy.

James Fryer, president of the Builders' Commercial agency, estimates 200,000 men in Chicago will be quarried and yards would be thrown out of work by the shutdown.

Neighborizing
The Farmer

Farm life has been completely transformed through the advent of the newspaper and the telephone.

Now the farmer and his family are placed in almost direct contact with his neighbors and the country in general. Now the telephone places him into immediate communication with all of his neighbors. The newspaper give him the news of the country, of everything important that has happened only a few hours before.

These two great methods of communication have neighborized the farmers, have placed the smaller communities in contact with the larger communities.

The telephone places the farmer in touch with his neighbors and incidents of personal importance. The newspaper gives the farmer the events of his community and the world.

The telephone is used at his convenience. And the newspaper is eagerly looked for by him as it comes to him through the regular mail transportation. It contains the news gathered for him by great news association from all parts of the world, and placed at his very door.

Day after day The Democrat-Forum is carried to the doors of prosperous Nodaway County farmers. They will be glad to know the news of your store Mr. Merchant, through this source. Others are using The Democrat-Forum day after day to reach these buyers. This same opportunity is offered to you.
